

Braeval Mining Announces Release of Company Vice-President

Toronto, Ontario (August 27th, 2013) – Braeval Mining Corporation (TSX:BVL) (“Braeval Mining” or the “Company”) is pleased to confirm that Gernot Wober, the Company’s Vice-President of Exploration, has been safely released by his captors in the South of Bolivar Province in Colombia after 221 days in captivity. Mr. Wober is in good health in the care of Colombian authorities and is receiving consular services from officials with the Canadian embassy. He will be returning to Canada to be re-united with his family at the earliest opportunity.

Braeval Mining wishes to thank all of the organizations involved in both Canada and Colombia for their support and assistance in obtaining Mr. Wobers release.

Contact:

Chris Eby
Navigator Ltd.
416-642-5000
ceby@navltd.com

No stock exchange, regulation services provider, securities commission or other regulatory authority has approved or disapproved the information contained in this news release.